- Camp Echo enrollment for the summer of 2010 was 1276 camper spots filled by 1165 individual campers.
- Overall camp was filled to 92% of capacity.
- Of 347 parents responding to our after-camp survey, 100% said their child had fun; 99% said the staff worked hard to ensure the health and safety of their child; 99% said counselors were good role models; 100% said their child felt included; 97% said their child had a bully-free experience 96% said their child learned about service; 99% say Echo is a good value for the money and 100% say they would recommend Echo to other families.
- 151 individuals donated 3611 hours of volunteer service to Camp Echo for FY 2010.
- Donations to Camp Echo in FY 2010 from foundations, camper parents, alumni and friends of Echo totaled $144,909 which represents 8.52% of total revenue.

As you peruse this Year in Review document, we hope you will consider the various ways you can donate to Camp Echo: annual giving for Camp Echo scholarships, or for Camp Echo's greatest needs; gifts to the Camp Echo endowment funds; gifts to the Camp Echo capital building fund and/or planned gifts for any or all of the above. Volunteer hours are always much appreciated.

Reconnecting

I first went to camp because my divorced mom needed to reduce her workload and focus on my younger brother and sister. I found out camp was fun.

I worked at camp during high school and college because I needed a summer job and camp was fun.

Then about 35 years later I got a telephone call from Katie Trippi, Alumni/Development Director, asking me to help out at a work weekend. That was about 10 years ago. Then a few years later I got a general alumni/staff E-mail seeking staffing help during second session family camp. Now, I do not want to miss either a work weekend or a family camp stint.

Looking back camp provided many wonderful experiences. The obvious is all the normal camp activities. However, the real memories and value to me were the personal growth and learning opportunities that came unannounced at the time.

Camp is not just a memory of the “good old days” but rather a living breathing experience today. It is not about the past but really about the future. The growth continues and the desire to make a camp experience available to others has grown. Thousands of people have passed through camp and I am sure many lives have been changed for the better because of that experience. I want to be a part of that opportunity for other people.

I know not all people are “camp people.” But for others camp is their “thing” and is very important. Sometimes people say that they need a “camp fix.” I think simply put some of us alumni need to get some camp time in to help battle the challenges of every day life. Also, being a volunteer for work weekends and family camp helps camp save money, and therefore, camp has greater resources to achieve its mission.

The Judeo-Christian influence of the “Y” and the “Y’s” emphasis of Body, Mind and Spirit raise the importance of camp’s mission. I feel those connections in my heart.

Camp is not just about the past. It is about the future. We can change the future of many by reconnecting and supporting camp today.
